Game Idea

You can cast spells, craft magical runes for workstations and maintain them. But be careful, your magic have a tendency to go array when you least expect it.

Gameplay

The game is based around the idea of putting runes into rune powered machines and depending on what runes you use the end result will different.

The first rune works like recipes and the runes that follow up will affect what the end product will be. As the customer's orders rolls in you need to change the runes on machines to fulfill their requests.

Some will want normal bread and give money in exchange. However, not all people want bread and will pay more for an apple pie or a carrot cake.

There will be many different requests and you will not have enough maskins available to make everything, so changing runes to make the requested food will be necessary to earn as much money as possible.

Game Play Loop

1. When the shop is closed you maintain the workstations to do most of the job for you and prepare your runes.
2. Open up the shop, keep a close eye on the workstations and serve customers food orders in exchange for coins. Also, make sure to watch out for problems.
3. At the end of the day you count out your gains and spend coins on upgrades and new runes.
4. Repeat.

There is something fishy about this Apple Pie...
